OUR VISION

So often crypto is treated as a quick cash grab without any consideration for the bigger picture.

On the CRONOS network, HODLAPE changes the game in favor of long-term investors with diamond hands. 6% of transaction volume is returned to holders in automated CRO rewards. Not only is HODLAPE one of only a few tokens to provide direct CRO rewards, it also features a buy back and burn process to ensure that the price floor continues to rise and create lasting value for holders.

A web app that will allow users to view their CRO rewards and value of their HODLAPE is also scoped for development. This will also be expanded to include all tokens and their associated rewards.

The HODLAPE team is dedicated to a token that allows investors to walk away from the chart because they are confident their investment is in dedicated hands.
